GOOD WILL TOWARD MEN

The holiday season for 1929 finds University of Omaha students and faculty members at a still higher plane than was realized during the same period in 1928. In the hurry and rush of college life, together with the demands made by the commercial world, the average student tends to forget the real purpose in living.

In the educational world, one of the most characteristic changes, and one of the most far-reaching in its effect upon the race, is the increased amount of leisure which has come into the life of a large portion of our population. The right to use leisure is no doubt a harder problem than the right to use working hours. During these periods of relaxation, it is easy to slip into evil paths which lead, direct, and force the innocent one into oblivion. One of the greatest evils is that of enmity.

Christmas is symbolic of God and the good will He would maintain among earthly subjects. The holiday season should mark the final climax of each year in the realizing of peace and good will on earth. As university students and faculty come to know what wonders have been wrought between each intervening season of festivity, it is only plausible that a greater feeling of righteousness comes to strengthen the purpose of achievement among men.

NOT CHARITY JUST YET

Last Friday evening, certain leading organizations on the university campus attempted to stage a benefit dance for those who desired to put Omaha on the basketball map. Numerous students were interviewed who strongly assured everyone within hearing distance that they would be at that dance; in fact, they would bring their friends; their friends would bring others and the whole thing would be a success.

Came the orchestra, a fine set of musicians, ready to do everything possible to entertain what was supposed to be an active student body that loved and cherished this university.

It has been reported that the players nearly fell off their chairs when the first few couples finally appeared. In other words, let us advise you, you insignificant bits of hot-air, that dance was a flop. A total flop was that dance. Understand!

Just where were you, Where were your friends? Where were those your friends were going to bring?

From the situation that grew out of wise and clever assurances and the loss of money that followed, it is plainly evident that Omaha university students sadly need jacking up at this point, especially.

Your chance to square things with the university lies in purchasing basketball tickets. Locate your organization and try to regain the good will of your university, your basketball team, and your press, by selling every bit of ticket on the campus. This is not charity for the present, but may be later on if you, who gush and spend school spirit hypocritically, fall your duty again. For the love of your university and self-respect, do something!

"The Munch" is an outstanding bit of work and should serve to aid culture in Omaha. All credit is due Professor N. J. Maxwell.

The Gateway staff extends cordial Christmas greetings and wishes for a prosperous New Year to the large circle of university friends who believe in the University of Omaha and its students.

The Christmas stocking will contain about ten good wishes and a few good resolutions.

Good resolutions are being arranged. Make known your wishes and these chances may be properly scheduled.

CHRISTMAS BELLS

Henry W. Longfellow

I heard the bells on Christmas day
Their old, familiar carols play,
And wild and sweet
The words repeat
Of peace on earth, good will to men.

XMAS JINGLE NUMBER

Dear Santy Claus—
Bring the froth some modesty,
Help the soph'mores pass,
Give the whole darned faculty
And seniors deadly gas.

And before I close this 'twattle',
Santa, little runt,
Break up ev'ry Theta paddle—
And bring me liniment.

Hush little U. of O.
Don't you cry,
You'll be a Muny school
By and by.

"Collegiate Nursery Rhyme"
Humpty Dumpty sat in a class,
Humpty D. had small chance to pass,
Now he takes CANDY
To his Prof. no fibbin'.
If Humpty D. flunks
I don't know McKibbin.

One day as I sat dreaming—
(For my Prof's an awful bore)
I heard a swishing, swashing
Just outside the classroom door.
Up the hall a funny clicking
And some shuffling on the floor;
It was Glass in his goolishes.
Only that and nothing more.

"Arithmetical Problem"
One and one are two,
But if one and one should marry,
How is it, in a year or so,
There's two and one to carry?

Say a prayer for Mary Lee,
2nd floor—and Room 10B!

300 students halted—
Professors stood elated—
300 voices whispered—
300 breaths were bated—
You ask what it's about, ole Mug?
Just O. U. awaiting the latest
"Browne Jug!"

Mac's Mutterings

WITH A large sigh of relief we note that this staff will be again re-organized next semester. We don't mind hunting stories, writing copy, reading copy, reading proof, making corrections, chasing ads, making up the dummy sheet, writing headlines, searching for delinquent reporters, stalling off payment of bills, helping circulation, or apologizing for chance over-sights—but: when we are bawled out for slipping an ad up ten cents, the worm tends to roll over.

WE ADVISE that the reason for the wry faces when someone asks to borrow a bit of personal property, is that we seldom see that property after it is loaned. No less than twelve articles have been gracefully loaned to persons classed as friends during this semester. To-date these same twelve are still missing.

OUR LARGE office chair was borrowed for some dramatic thing or other last week, and did we get it back? Not in a pig's eye. This office is as private as the life of a baby; or better yet—a gold-fish.

WHILE WAITING for an order to be filled in a near-by drug establishment recently, we were astounded at hearing a pretty mother sing her infant to sleep with phrases similar to the "poop oop a doop" of this age.

WE FELL for the old water-work game last week while snooping around a second hand store in search of—well, another clarinet. The old tramp who pulled the gag had three women clerks cornered, and was springing the story "honest, I ain't eat for tree days." When he turned to us and with tears coursing down his grimy jowls, muttered something or other about "God above and my little kids" we handed him twenty cents; whereupon he displayed a labor union card. "No liquor for me," he sobbed. And over all was the dank odor of nothing lower than alcohol.

THIS OFFICE has for circulation, a little book of advice on how to tactfully avoid the "yum-yum" female during this season of festivity. Statistics have been carefully compiled after great research by members of the staff.

WE ARE thinking of starting a red nose contest. Old Santa can choose his helpers from campus members recommended through this office.

FUNNY THING how the attendance at Co-Ed basketball games nearly surpasses that at regular he-man contests. What is that strange power possessed by the freakiest sex?

WITH ONLY two home games scheduled for the varsity basketball squad, it look like the coy co-eds are in for a large time.

Who's Who at the U. of O.

Professor N. J. Maxwell of the Spanish Department, obtained his A. M. degree at the University of Illinois. The year following, he enlisted in the army and with the A. E. F. and spent a year in France. On his return from France and because of his experience, Prof. Maxwell taught at various Military Schools, first at the Missouri Military Academy, Mexico, Missouri for three years; then at the Louisville Male High School in Louisville, Kentucky, and last in St. John's Military Academy at Delahed, Wisconsin.

In 1927, he returned to University of Illinois and obtained his Masters degree in the Romance Languages. Prof. Maxwell said, "In my nine years teaching experience, this is my first opportunity to teach women—and on being questioned concerning his preference, he answered, "I don't want to hurt anyone's feelings but I do prefer to teach boys; however, I am sure this is because I am more accustomed to them."

He has no special hobby except his liking for many worthwhile things that help get all he can from life. Prof. Maxwell favors a Municipal University and thinks that Omaha U. as a Municipal University would fill a long felt need and be an asset to the community.

"I have a very favorable impression of the students of the University of Omaha. In their relations with the faculty I find them courteous, friendly, fair and honest and I enjoy working with them."

THE CUBS' CORNER

This literary corner is especially intended for the publication of amateur poetry and short prose selections written exclusively by the students of the University of Omaha. The encouragement of talent along literary lines is its earnest aim. Any contributions from students will be welcomed.

THE CHRISTMAS CHORD

Shimmering stars in a velvet sky,
Silver, blue and white—
The little Babe of Bethlehem
Was born on such a night.
And a peal as from some rusty bell
Whose tongue had long been still,
Was born to all the waiting earth
By winged messengers
Of good will,
And an answering chord
Responded, sleeping until then,
And the light of love rekindled in the Hearts of men.
But such is man's foolish nature
That he often forgets that chord,
During the weary years
He loses its charm, and then
Each succeeding Christmas
Wakens the chord again.

So long as that which might have been isn't, why worry your head about it!

CHRISTMAS JOYS

Susan Coolidge

We ring the bells and we raise the strain,
We hang up garlands every where
And bid the tapers twinkle fair,
And feast and frolic—and then we go
Back to the same old lives again.

Max No Diff

"Is this place good for rheumatism?"

"Well, I got mine here."

We hear mother ask, "Where do bad little girls go?" We would answer, "Most everywhere."

One of our pledges thinks it is useless to wash one of his ears as he can't hear out of it anyway.

All women are alike—each one firmly believes that she is different.

Mac, our editor, entered a blindfold test; he was able to choose his girl's favorite lipstick four times out of five.

Among the things we would like to know. What was Little Red Riding-hood walking through the woods for, anyhow?

Our idea of a real guy is the Scotchman who went to Niagara Falls alone on his honeymoon, because his bride had seen it.

Ever been mad? I was so mad the other night that I went down the street a ways and ate hot tamales.

Famous American Greetings—Glad-tanoyouh; Hawarya; Pleestameetcha.

A man, after stirring his restaurant soup for considerable time finds a small oyster, then exclaims; "Aha, a stowaway!"

ANOTHER FUNNY thing that occurs each year is when padded pledges threaten to drop all connection and start their own group. What a sad time they would have. Any active organization has to work like Dr. E. W. E. himself to keep things going along.

BOOKS TO read: "Barnum's Biography" by Werner; "Will O' the Mill" by Stevenson; Mrs. Leslie F. Johnson has done a credible bit of work with the biography of Dr. Jeanin, founder of this college; O. O. McIntyre has severed connections with life—and has predicted the downfall of "some" magazines; all's quiet on the Eastern front where Mullinger has wed a chernie girl; O. B. Shaw rates himself among among the world's foremost thinkers; pursue our story "Star Spangled Banner" when published—if ever.

AMONG THE new publications for the literary are "Manscript" and the "American Short Story." Both are worth the time taken for intelligent reading.

REPORTS HAVE it that a number of our collegians would like to work with Uncle Sam this Christmas; if the mail is delayed, page 2 Frostman.

Hang-Over

Modernistic Latin

Mrs. Johnson (leading class discussion of Cicero's works):

"Cato said, 'A Hercule, I dictate the terms of war and peace to the senate, et quo modo.'"

Student (in response): "A Hercule," means 'By Heck' and 'et quo modo' means 'and how.' The sentence is 'By Heck, I dictate the terms of war and peace to the senate, and how.'"

Professor—Who has seen the Elgin Marbles?

Bob Elgin—I haven't lost any.

It takes a great deal of nerve to walk by a small boy with a snowball in his hand, especially Woerner, Fay, Barber, Hollister or any other youngster that hangs out near the Hash House.

Prof. McKibbin—Getcher, what is a wave?

Getcher—A motion in the water.

Prof.—Then a man in the bath tub is a wave.

Witman—The closer you get to Bouche (author of economics text) the better off you will be.

Bless—Where does he live?

FEWER MISTAKES

All things are not perfect. It is just when we begin to think we are absolutely correct at all time, that the flaws begin to slip in. We pass this on in hopes all will be forgiven:

We made a mistake in last week's issue of the Sentinel. A good subscriber told us about it.

The same day there was a letter in our postoffice box that didn't belong to us. We called for 98 over the telephone and got 198. We asked for a spool of No 50 thread and when we got home found it was No. 60. The train was reported thirty minutes late, we arrived at the depot twenty minutes after train time and the train had gone. We got our milk till and there was a mistake of 10 cents in our favor. We felt sick and the doctor said we were eating too much meat. We hadn't tasted meat for two months. The garage man said the Stacey was missing because it needed a new timer. We cleaned the spark plug and it has run ever since. You, we made a mistake in last week's issue of the paper—Glen Elder (Ham) Sentinel.

Y. W. Sponsors Carol Activities, To Sing For Hospitals Christmas Eve

Miss Olive Gould and Miss G. Gwinn, the former, a secretary of the Student Volunteers and the latter a secretary of the National Y. W. C. A., were recently on the campus. The last meeting of the Y. W. on Tuesday, Dec. 10, was a discussion led by Vivian Krikel on the need of students for deeper character and depth of personality. This was one of the topics suggested by Miss Gwinn.

Tuesday, Dec. 17, all the girls who desire to go out on Christmas Eve to sing carols with the City Girl Reserves met with the Y. W. for practice. They will sing at the hospitals of the city and the Y. W. will furnish trucks to carry them.

University Students Tell Holiday Plans

Loyal devotees of school dances, Corinne Jensen, Barbara Dallas, and Floyd Wilson, plan to "make them all." Others, without thought worthy of a public column, answered in tones that ranged all the way from flippancy to boredom. "Nothing much" — "Nothing special." Still others explained that they supposed they would stay home, or fool around, or something anyway. Some of these folk were Linda Bradley, Jean Andrews, Helen Mosher, Gertrude True.

N. K. Woerner replied, in a mournful voice, "Work for my old man" — (the reporter felt sorry for the old man) but then he brightened as he added, "Want to know what I'm going to do New Year's Eve?" Inasmuch as all Gateway reporters are young, innocent, and trusting, the line of inquiry was not further pursued. "I'll work if I can get a job, but getting the job will probably be the work," was the reply of Joe Kubat, man about school and cheer leader extraordinary.

Duncan is Ambitious

Helen Jane Duncan seemed to be the only ambitious coed on the campus, though it may be she was only more successful in fooling an employer into believing that she was worthy of the hire. P.O.'s plan to stick around the home fires in the day time. Juanita Johnson is to "sleep days and go nights" while Leah Daubenheyer says she is "going to stay home (as was noted) in the day time."

When the reporter questioned Kenneth Jensen he merely showed a little perfumed note and added the unnecessary remark, "That's what I'm going to do."

Faculty Needs Rest

Of faculty members interviewed, Dr. Emery, Dr. Sullenger, Professor Hammer, and Mrs. Gearhart, are going to stay in Omaha, work, and chaperon dances. Probably the faculty feels the need of a rest as much as the long suffering students.

The Gateway staff is going to forget all about a paper for two whole weeks—every one, even including the editor.

Lester Tillotson, alternating guard and tackle on the varsity football squad, has returned to his home at Keweenaw, Nebraska.

Threatens "Writing to Uncle Sam Himself" If Pershing Is Silent

Excerpts From Army of Occupation Newspaper Show General Uneducation of Writers In World War Time

Among the many reasons for advancing education are these excerpts from letters received by Professor Irwin A. Hammer during the World War. The Amarac News, official paper of the Army of Occupation has carried these humorous touches:

"I ain't got no book learning and hope I am writing for inflammation."

"Just a line to let you know I am a widow and four children."

"I have a four months baby and he is my only support."

"Kind Sir (or She): I enclose lovingly yours."

"I was discharged for a goitre which I was sent home on."

"Please correct my name as I cannot go under a consumed name."

"I am his wife and only air."

"Now, Mrs. Wilson, I need help bad. See if the president can't see after me. I need him to see me."

"Both sides of our parents are old and poor."

"I am a poor widow and all I have is in front."

"Dear Gen. Pershing: You may be surprised to hear from me, but we all think so much of you here in our town, and I want to find out about his pay. If I don't hear from you right away I am going to write to Uncle Sam himself."

Law School Briefs

Lambda Phi, legal fraternity of the University of Omaha, announces the following who have pledged to date, Ralph Baird, John L. Barber, J. C. Croghan, George Chlemanek, Bruce Baker, Francis Casey, Harland Mathews, Robert F. McCormick, Dewey D. Nemetz, John A. Jungquist, George A. Smith, and Duane T. Swanson. These men will be initiated shortly after the close of the semester.

Franklyn Royce and Ramsey Chapman were appointed as a special committee to instruct the pledges in their duties and obligations to the fraternity and school.

Many faces from the Law School were seen in the audience at the second Symphony concert of the season. A number of the men have season tickets and look forward to each affair as a musical treat. Parties have been planned to follow the concert and from all indications, they promise to be gala occasions.

Arthur H. Sturges, patent attorney, recently gave a special lecture to the second and fourth year students in the absence of their regular instructors. The subject of patents is most unique and the lecture was interesting.

LAW STUDENT MARRIES

Frank Cletus Heinisch, popular member of the third year class of the Law School and Miss Dorothy Fischer, shook hands and paired off on their no decision, fight-to-a-finish, last Thanksgiving evening.

Heinisch, will be remembered as a former student in the college of Liberal Arts, Member of Theta Phi Delta, and Sigma Pi by virtue of having debated for the U. of O. last year. It was generally known that the event would take place sooner or later but the actual occurrence came as somewhat of a surprise to many.

To Mr. and Mrs. (it seems odd to think of Frank as a family man) Heinisch, the student body as a whole extends heartfelt congratulations. We can only predict success and happiness to the couple, the groom having had Judge Slabaugh's course in Domestic Relations.

GRAVES' NEW SQUAD HAS EIGHTEEN MEN

Experience Difficulty in Hitting Basket During J. C. O. Fray Thursday

With the termination of some two weeks of work, in which time Cardinal Coach Graves has selected first squad material, and whipped it into shape, hopes for a successful cage season are high. Fortunate indeed are the Red Birds to have obtained the services of so able a tutor as William Graves who knows his stuff and who is demonstrating the fact with results.

The Omaha boys look good. In practice sessions of the past week they showed well, demonstrating ability as floor men, although they seemed to have difficulty in hitting the basket in a scrimmage with the Jewish Community Center last Thursday. This flaw, however, is among the easiest of failings to correct, and should cause no worry.

Defense is improved. Defense work of the Cardinals had improved much at the end of the week. Plays were breaking well. Rustiness was disappearing, all of which bodes ill for Sioux Falls, the Cards' next opponent, who will be on deck Friday for a fracas on the Omaha floor.

Some eighteen men out of forty who turned out for the first practice session have been retained by Coach Graves as a first string. The axe was swung after he had watched the aspirants in an impromptu tournament.

Out of the mass of material that presented itself, Graves picked the following men as the most likely looking goal-shooters: Captain Toddy Barber, Johnny Barber, McAttee, Remde, Hollister, Sales, Fay, Hatcher, Bless, Thompson, Arthur, Huff, Longmeyer, Fry, Gideon, Mrkivick, Pelliseur, and Kuntzelman. It is possible that any of these men will be dropped for new ones added at any time.

Inter-Mural Under Way. Those who were not numbered among the varsity candidates will not have to hang up their suits, as an inter-mural basketball league has been organized within the school in order to give everyone a chance to play. Coach Graves desires that no one who is interested in the game be restricted from competition because of the impracticability of having a larger varsity squad.

Football Letters Go To Eighteen Players

Howard Aided by Athletic Board in Selecting Suitable Members

Head football coach Warren H. Howard with the aid of the athletic board has selected 18 letter men from the squad of 35 for the year of 1929-30.

The following are to receive their letters:

Captain Benny Huff, Logan Iowa; Harris Kuntzelman, York, Nebraska; Leonard Barber, Omaha; Patrick Aloysius Quinn, Chicago, Ill.; Harvey Longmeyer, Omaha; Robert J. Strait, Winnetka, Omaha; Harold McAttee, Storm Lake, Iowa; William Arthur, Omaha; J. Leo Mrkivick, Ravenna, Nebraska; Frederick Stevens, Omaha; Ray Hanson, Omaha; Harry Hoover, Menard, Nebraska; Ray Fraley, Mendota, Nebraska; George Boshier, Edgewood, Iowa; Fred Fry, Missouri Valley, Iowa; Carroll Sales, Missouri Valley, Iowa; Howard Hatcher, Missouri Valley, Iowa; and John Lawrence Barber, Omaha.

McAttee, with a brilliant past record, seems so sure he would cap one of the players on the first squad.

Postpone Grid Captain Election Indefinitely

Outcome of Muny University Vote Hinges Future

Election of football captain for 1930 has been indefinitely postponed, according to Bennie Huff, leader of the 1929 squad. The decision will probably be made in the spring, when many of the men will have decided whether or not they will be members of next year's Cardinal crew.

The outcome of the attempt to make Omaha a municipal university will doubtlessly be the deciding consideration of many of the players in making the choice.

THROUGH THE HOOP

Flash Gamble and Streitzwiser have found their studies too trying this year and have not showed up for the team as yet.

Kuntzelman will be lost to the squad for a little time due to the broken shoulder sustained in the Peru game. After that, however, he says that nothing can stop him from being in the game with rest of the fellows.

Toddy Barber still seems to have the old eye for the basket that made him one of the feared shots of the past season.

Jumping John Barber may be lost to the squad due to night law classes. He has been practicing part time but this may mean the loss of a berth to him.

Fay looks as though he will be a winner this year. He almost came to landing a place last year but the studies kept him under so much of the time that he was lost to the team for all but the first few games.

Montgomery is another part-time man, having work with a downtown concern that keeps him busy for the most of the afternoon.

Jensen, the flash of last year's team, at last saw his way clear to help out the school and reported a few days late; as the old saying goes better late than never.

Thompson, wanted to take spite out on himself and grabbed off a nice Charlie-horse the first night which has kept him out for the last ten days.

Hayward, one of the long shots, is looking more like a comer this year than ever before. With more experience he ought to develop.

Huff, the Logan flash, looks like the thing for a good pivot's running mate.

Among the newcomers to this year's basketball squad we find three Missouri Valley players who look like they were out to give the old boys some competition. Sales, playing at center with Fry at forward and Hatcher at guard is a nice combination to start with on any team.

Remde, the Council Bluffs flash will have to loosen up or the boards will see him no more. This is the kind of a team that has a reputation to make and not one to live on.

Pelliseur, a home town product, looks well on any combination that has so far been started. Too bad he couldn't have about ten more pounds of weight.

Alexander, Downing and Nelson all seem to lack the weight and experience necessary for a college team. All of these men are Freshmen and with another year behind them they ought to be able to stand the test.

ALL-OPPONENT TEAM CHOSEN

SELECTIONS MADE BY GATEWAY SPORTS STAFF

The following all-opponent team is chosen in recognition of ability and sportsmanship shown by opponents in games with the University of Omaha football team during the past season.

Left end—Golens, Chadron
Left tackle—Mertz, Tarkio
Left guard—Mahood, Maryville
Center—McKinley, Wayne
Right guard—Kerner, Peru
Right tackle—Brockman, Peru
Right end—Hoffman, Peru
Quarter—Fisher, Maryville (Captain)
Left half—Perry, Chadron
Right half—Dennis, Wayne
Full back—Hurst, Peru

Peru, the team that overwhelmed the Redbirds 50 to 0 in the next to last game of the season, places four men on the team. Hurst, Bobcat back, is a fast, aggressive player and an expert pass receiver. A good defensive player, this man also hits the line like a locomotive, and his play well merits his selection as all-opponent fullback. Brockman, Peru's captain, is the best tackle the Bobcats have turned out in many years. It is his last year of play. Hoffman, end, is the best pass snatcher in the N. I. A. A. and is good on defense. An aggressive, fast man, Kerner, guard, keeps going all through the game.

Fisher is Captain

To Fisher of Maryville goes the honor of the captaincy of Omaha's all-opponent eleven. Aggressive, yet cool-headed, he is a most capable field general. A deadly tackler and a sweet broken field runner, he is the best punter Omaha has met this year. Another crack Maryville player is Mahood, a guard. In the game with Omaha he was the stonewall of his team's defense. He is expert at diagnosing plays.

Chadron also lands two men. Perry, halfback, is expert at following interference and his cut-backs are unexcelled. Very few plays were made around Golens, the Tigers' best end.

Mertz of Tarkio is but a Freshman. He promises to become a great player in years to come, and was an Iowa all-state tackle in high school circle last year. Dennis of Wayne was largely instrumental in pulling his team out of a slump and was an important factor in Wayne's 7 to 0 defeat of Chadron.

Coach "Min" Peterson Returns January To Aid Co-Eds in Retaining Big Cup

Jensen, Daubenheyer, Graces, Thomas, Back as Nucleus For Another Champ Squad

In spite of obstacles, the Girls' basketball squad is starting out with success. With twenty-six girls reporting, Dean Stevens is arranging a practice schedule for them with Coach Graves. The girls will practice three times a week.

Miss Hilma Peterson, known on the campus as Min, will be the coach. She will be out the first week after vacation, and five of last year's team will form the nucleus for the new teams to be picked this year. Corrine Jensen, captain; Leah Daubenheyer, Marie Grace, Mildred Grace, and Marjorie Thomas have reported again. All of last year's first team is back except the guards who are not in school.

Two Teams Lined Up. Two teams of equal strength will represent the University of Omaha.

Leo, although late in starting, has bolstered the squad quite a lot and has taken some of the lines out of the worried face of the new mentor, Coach Graves.

Gardner and Shelby Gamble, both tall men, have an equally good chance to cop the center berth. Experience in both cases would be needed to clinch the place.

Roberts Promises Keen Inter-Mural Schedule

Second Run of Tourney Dated After Holiday Season

The first round of the inter-mural basketball tourney was played off Tuesday, Dec. 17, in the gym. Phi Sigma Phi Fraternity met Theta Phi Delta in a preliminary to the Red Bird-Buena Vista fracas. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon Alpha Sigma Lambda mixed with the College of Commerce, and at the termination of the half the Faculty and the Barbs tangled.

Under the management of assistant basketball coach John Roberts, the competition in inter-mural circles promises to be keen this year. He plans to run off the second round the first tourney after Christmas vacation, and games will be played every week thereafter until the first of March.

J. BARBER FIRST

In the All-Star N. I. A. A. football teams chosen by the Journal, Lincoln publication, John Barber, 1928 captain and center who alternated at center and guard this year, was picked over Kerner of Peru and Stangle of Chadron. Kerner is conceded to be one of the best guards in the conference.

Arthur, Hatcher, and Kuntzelman were selected as members of the second All-Star team.
